SUBJECT : FOUNDATIONS OF SOCIOLOGICAL THOUGHT

Objectives:

Sociology originated as an intellectual response to the crisis confronting the midnineteenth century European society. Its development over a century and a half since then has been influenced by a variety of socioeconomic and politicak conditions where it has been taught and practised. It is now established as a multi-paradigmatic academic discipline, with its body of theoretical knowledge enriched and its methodological techniques and procedures systematised. Nevertheless, some of its original concerns have persisted and some of its classical theoretical anad methodological iandmarks are rel event even now.

This paper is intended to familiarise the students with the social, political, economic and intellectual contexts in which sociology emerged as a distinctive discipline. Its objective is to help studennts gain an understanding of some of the classical contributions in sociology and their continuing relevance to its contemporary concerns.
